Prayer for an Engineer

Designer of the cosmos, God of meticulous detail.

Thank you for the traceable complexity of your created world, which so inspires the details of our engineering.

You are the great mathematician, who entered the world of your creation to enjoy and even rest within it.

As we revel in the details of our designs, grant us the ability to love one another and rest in the imperfection of our pursuits. May we love order as you do, while we love others and rest in you most of all.

May we taste the joy of seeing our contemplations impact the world around us, and know that you see every detail, even when we escape the recognition of others.

Written for the Worship for Workers Project of Fuller Seminary by Andy Littleton from Tucson, Arizona