Prayer to the God Who Rests

To the God who rests,

We are so busy with our working and playing, with all that needs to be done.
Yet you never seem to rush in your creating you are patient.

Forgive us for our wilfulness, our desire to control all things, and our lack of satisfaction.
Help us to reorder ourselves around you and your timing.
Help us to know your priorities.
Grant us faithful rhythms in our lives
    so there is time for you,
    time for others,
    and time for renewing our heart and mind and body and spirit.

Amen.

Written for the Worship for Workers Project of Fuller Seminary by ©Kara Martin, workship.com.au